Fit-out of Birmingham's Largest Restaurant

Bridgford Interiors provided the skills to facilitate the £1.5 million fit-out of Birmingham's largest restaurant in Brindley Place.

The second Bank to be built, the first outside of London.

Described as a modern restaurant with a sense of occasion, Banks striking 10,000 square feet was designed by award winning architect Julian Wykham.

It seats up-to 250 diners, with the added option of sitting on the terrace overlooking the canal.

The unique ceiling is adorned by over 3500 pieces of glass weighing over twenty tonnes, each piece individually templated and suspended by metal work.
